

Q: What is Money Matters National Education Day?

A. Money Matters National Education Day (MMNED) is an annual event that empowers payroll and finance professionals to educate the upcoming generations of employees on paycheck basics. This financial literacy event was founded by the American Payroll Association and is held annually in conjunction with National Payroll Week.

Q. What important topics will students learn from a MMNED lesson?

A. After going through the exclusive MMNED “Bringing Home the Gold” lesson plan, students will have a basic understanding of:

- The payroll withholding system
- How a paycheck is calculated
- How to complete a Form W-4 on their first day of work
- The pros and cons of various payment methods available to them

Q. Is the MMNED lesson an in-person or virtual presentation?

A. The MMNED lesson is optimized for both in-person or virtual delivery depending on your presentation preference.

Q. How long does it take to teach the MMNED curriculum?

A. On average, it takes one hour to present the MMNED curriculum. Presentation times can vary based on how many questions volunteer presenters receive from students.

Q. Why do you need a MMNED lesson at your location?

A. Financial illiteracy is a major problem in the United States. After being exposed to the hands-on MMNED presentation, students will have the knowledge and understanding to take control of the way they are paid, save for the future, and put more money in their pocket with each paycheck.

Q. Is there a fee to have a MMNED lesson presented?

A. No! There is never a charge for this presentation.

Q. What is the American Payroll Association?

A. Established in 1982, the American Payroll Association is the nation's leader in payroll education, publications, and training. The MMNED program is part of APA's nonprofit, volunteer outreach efforts to increase financial literacy.
